

County Files Delinquent Tax Suits

The first of a probable 2,500 delinquent county tax suits were filed this week in Justice of the Peace Courts No. 1 and 4 by Criminal District Attorney A. W. Lair.

Monday afternoon, the commissioners court authorized a contract with attorney Dale Williams to continue filing the suits and follow through on the hearings, receiving judgments and abstracting the judgments. The attorney will be paid $500 a month for a six-months period, with the goal of filing 100 suits a week.

Lair's office prepared the first 100 suits. They were filed Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, and service of the papers was begun by the sheriff's office.

The list of suits to be filed was prepared by the tax assessor's office, and the first list included about 200 names. Assessor-Collector Bill Money said the list was taken from the 1957 delinquent list, and checked backwards through the 1956 and 1955 rolls. He said the reason for starting with the 1957 roll was that the addresses shown would be the last known address of the person.

Only delinquent personal property is being sued for at this time. The amounts being sued for include, 1955 1956 and 1957 taxes.

Suits filed Saturday in JP Court No. 1 and the amounts being sued for are:

Martha Anderson, Canyon, $7.82; A. H. Ashley, Canyon, $5.70; Jerre Inman, Canyon, $30.67; J. W. Adams, Canyon, $1.09; Bob L. Alsop, Canyon, $1.09; Eugene Frische Jr., Rt. 1, Canyon, $16.34; A. Carolyn Campbell, Highland 4-H Club, and Willie Wieck, Umbarger 4-H Club, were named winners of the Gold Star awards at the Randall County 4-H awards party in the American Legion Hall Friday night.

Miss Campbell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Campbell of Bushland, and Wieck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wieck of Umbarger.

The Gold Star awards go to the boy and girl doing the most outstanding 4-H Club work for the year. The honors are the only ones presented by the Texas Extension Service.

Frankfort Starts Deep Oil Test

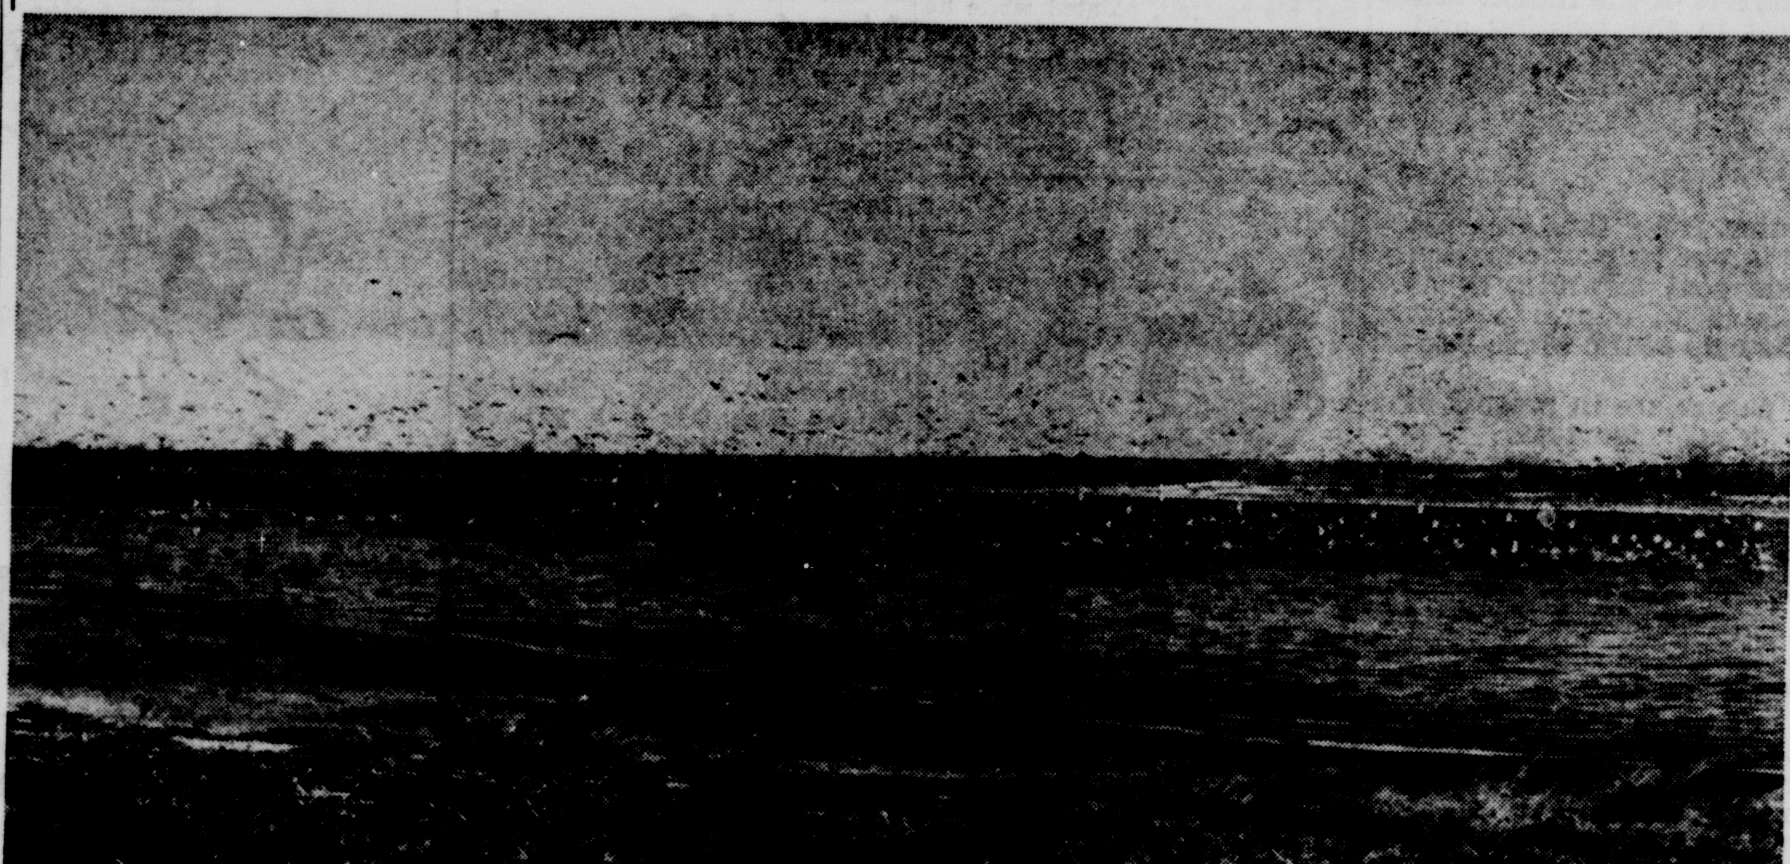

Another deep test for the Palo Duro basin in Randall County has been scheduled by Frankfort Oil Company. The well is named Beaumont Stinnett No. 1 and is located on the Stinnett land south of Umbarger.

The location is 650 feet from the west and north lines of Section 65, Tyler-Tap Survey, and is about eight miles from Umbarger. Permit depth for the well is 9500 feet.

The well is an offset to a previous test. A Patterson well was drilled to 1310 feet in the northeast corner of Section 60, adjoining Section 65 on the west.

In preparation for the drilling, a water well was dug on the location and a top-of-the-ground gas pipeline has been laid from the El Paso Natural Gas pipeline in the vicinity to the location.

High School Junior Play Begins Two-Day Production Thursday

The story of the Carol family, and how the youngest daughter's problems were solved, will be given Thursday and Friday night when the Canyon High School junior class presents "Time Out With Ginger."

The play opens in early fall when Ginger, age 14, played by Mary Bess Brillhart, shatters all tradition by going out for the local high school football team. This pleases her father, played by Bill Cornette, who has always wanted a son, but has three daughters.

In the second act, Ginger gets into a game and plays the last two minutes. Her father is happy about that, too; so happy that he goes out to warm up when the coach calls on Ginger.

Needless to say, the other two daughters, Joan, age 18, played by Marcia Barker, and Jeannie, age 16, played by Carol Jones, and their mother, played by Judy Parsons, are embarrassed by Ginger and her tomboyish ways.

Ginger learns an important lesson in the third act as the family prepares to go see Jeannie in a play, "Victoria Regina."

Others in the cast are Lizzie, the maid, played by Marla Free; Eddie Davis, athlete and Joan's boy friend, played by Mike Poole; Tommy Green, Ginger's boy friend, played by Howard Munday; Mr. Wilson, the high school principal, played by Ronnie Hughes; and Ed Hoffman, Howard Carol's boss, played by Chuck Nester.

Reservations for the play are available from any member of the junior class. The productions will begin at 8 p. m. both nights, leaving time after the drawing on Thursday night to get to the high school auditorium.

Director of the play is Mrs. Lee Foster. Mrs. Cecil Simms and Edward Dwyer are the class sponsors.

Court Threatened With Injunction Suit To Stop Expressway Work

Members of the Randall County Commissioners Court were served with a letter Monday afternoon that accuses them of taking land unlawfully and threatens to stop construction of the expressway with an injunction.

The letter, from the law firm of Culton, Morgan, Britain and White of Amarillo, was brought to the court by Sheriff L. S. Johnston. A copy was given each member of the court, and the sheriff was required to return an acknowledgment of the letter showing that it had been given to each commissioner personally.

Signed by B. L. Morgan Jr., the letter said that on Nov. 14 a letter had been sent to the court advising of the unlawful taking of property owned by John Burruss and M. E. Stevens. The land in question is a tract containing 4.407 acres out of the southwest quarter of Section 5, Block 9, BS&F. It appears to be land located just north of the Bell Avenue intersection of the expressway.

The letter further states: "Notwithstanding our letter to you, shortly thereafter you began construction of a road across a portion of this property. This is unlawful taking without just compensation and violates the Constitution and Statutes of this State."

It said that if condemnation proceedings are not started immediately and prosecuted diligently, "you will consider this writing as notice of the intent, and as a predicate, to file a suit" for an injunction to delay completion of the road until the landowners are justly compensated.

The members of the court said they had no memory of a letter from the law firm on Nov. 14, and that a check of the right of way purchases showed the right of way had been purchased nearly two years ago.

The county paid J. O. Fitzjarrald and John H. Merchant $1,075 for 339 of an acre on April 6, 1956. The right of way deed is filed in Volume 209, page seven, of the county deed records.

A further search of the deed records shows the land in question was sold to Burruss on July 21, 1958.

The court took no action on the letter from the law firm.

Three-Headed Democrats

The Democratic Party on the national scene is a three-headed thing, and all three heads continually chase for the crown of leadership.

We have before us the Executive Committee of the national party, made up of a committeeman and committeewoman from each state; the Democratic Advisory Committee, made up of a number of nationally-known Democrats including former President Harry Truman and would-be president Adlai Stevenson; and the Democratic congressional delegation, made up mostly of Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson.

The congressional branch put out a program of work for the next two years some time back, in a 12-point legislative worksheet. The national executive committee last week passed some resolutions that could be considered a program pointing toward the 1960 elections, and the DAC put out a program of 24 specific points, broken down into detailed recommendations.

None of the three programs are completely acceptable by all parts of the country, although Johnson's is probably a compromise that could be "lived with."

The executive committee last week overrode the wishes of Southern Democrats and commended Chairman Paul Butler for his work and his stand. Butler is the man who said recently that if Southerners could not go along with his civil rights program, they could get out of the Democratic party.

The DAC put up a program that embraced the portions of the 1957 Civil Rights bill that were turned down by Congress. The DAC also called for a change in the Senate's filibuster rule, and put a finger in just about all the governmental pies.

Senator Johnson's program was not so far-reaching as either of the other two.

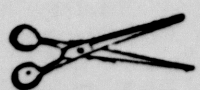

The three heads of the Democratic party will be fighting for the crown in the next two years, with the prize that goes with the crown being the privilege of nominating the next Democratic Presidential candidate.

New Spelling

We read the other day of a man who writes "Xmas" when he is talking about the commercial, and "Christmas" when he is talking about the religious. But we've been hearing over the radio about an Amarillo store that takes both "Christ" and "mas" out of Christmas and spells it "L-I-N-G-E-R-I-E."

What Our Neighbors Say...

Scissor Snippings

Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record: Members of the 56th Texas Legislature which will convene in January are agreed on one thing, according to a recent Associated Press poll, and that is that "Money" will be the No. 1 problem facing the new session.

How to get it, that is. Legislators apparently have plenty of ways already in mind for how to spend it.

There are many plans already in the mill for expanding state services... more money for teachers, improvements in the state hospital and prison systems, and an establishment proposed by the governor of a new paid juvenile parole system, to name just a few. There is also a little matter facing the legislature of where to raise the money to match federal funds for medical care payments to Texas old age assistance clients... plus an as-yet unknown sum for pensions for retired Texas Rangers and their widows... both items dumped in the legislative lap last month when Texas voters approved a flock of constitutional amendments.

One item which the Legislators won't have to worry about this time is finding money to cover the big Legislative pay raise which was also proposed in the form of a constitutional amendment, but overwhelmingly rejected by voters. Texas solons will be working for the same old $25 a day with a 120-day limit, and some of them are already predicting that they can't get their work done in the allotted time and will need a special session to wrestle with the expected deficit.

But their problem is really fairly simple: It all boils down to a choice between more taxes and less spending.

Neither prospect is very pleasing to a politician. When asked by the AP pollster to state specifically what new tax they might favor... such as general sales tax, gross receipts tax, individual or corporate income tax, or "other tax"... a lot of the legislators, with apparent relief, said "other tax."

We think a majority of Texans would be happier, however, if the new legislators would consider the axe instead of the tax... and use it on some of the booming bureaucracy around them in Austin.

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: Perryton has passed the required 5,000 population figure necessary for a home rule charter and the Herald believes it is high time that the city adopt such a charter and get away from the general laws that now govern our administration.

A Home Rule Charter must be adopted by the vote of the people, and we believe people would be in favor of such a vote if the provisions are carefully explained.

The state legislature provides the same general laws for all cities below the 5,000 population mark. However, it is apparent that when a city grows beyond that point, it is confronted with problems that do not apply to similar cities.

In fact, no two cities ever have exactly the same problems. That is why the legislature provides for home rule when the 5,000 figure has been reached.

A Home Rule Charter contains any powers and duties that the citizens desire so long as these do not conflict with laws of the state constitution.

We can think of two areas where Perryton is handicapped by not having a different charter—the fields of annexation and zoning. There are 147 Texas cities of more than 5,000 population and of this total only 25 have not adopted a Home Rule Charter.

Perryton is one of the 25. We think it is time to think about a change.

The visible part of the fighting will go on mostly in the newspapers (radio and television, too, of course), but backstage maneuvering will probably determine the victor. Any of the programs that get through Congress will have to clear through the Johnson-Rayburn head of the party, so we can probably forecast with ease that the Johnson program will win out there.

After the dust of the battle has blown clear, and the victor names its candidate in 1960, we can feel sure that he will win the election—not because he is the best available man (although he might be), but because he is a Democrat and the people are tired of Republicans who have the same program.

This is a fight that we can watch with apprehension, because we can be sure that the best interests of the nation will not be paramount in the twisting and gouging.

Help, Help

We had a letter from the Amarillo newspapers asking our help in choosing a Panhandle-wide goal for 1959, or at least a goal related to our area that would require the help of the whole Panhandle.

The Amarillo papers are in process of compiling their "goals" for 1959.

We wonder if any of our readers have some ideas along those lines. If so, let's try to get them included in the list of "goals" for the coming year. Let us know what you have in mind.

One Advantage

Amarillo's police department has been under heavy fire of late because of their heavy enforcement of traffic laws. Much of the criticism comes from out of that city.

Those who criticize are missing one point, we believe. If the enforcement campaign brings a lower accident rate, it could have the effect of lowering insurance rates on automobiles in this area. The towns up here are lumped together in a district for rate setting purposes. The insurance rate is based, among other things, on the accident rate and resulting insurance claims.

If Amarillo begins to have fewer wrecks, we can feel sure the number of claims will drop, and that should give us a lower rate for insurance in the future.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

One of the most romantic places in Richmond is the Wickham-Valentine house. It is a two-story brick mansion built in 1812 for a lawyer who was the chief attorney for Aaron Burr when he was tried for treason.

There is a spiraling stairway with no visible means of support. Chunks of wood were cracking and blazing in a fireplace although it was June—in order to give this added touch of authenticity to the scene.

Furniture of long ago fills the rooms, showing how the people lived—the aristocracy, anyway. The parlor is a place of Victorian splendor—mirrors, gilt, plush and paintings.

One room looks out on a garden of trimmed hedges and carpet-like grass, with a fountain, statuary and wrought-iron benches. You enter the garden by stepping through a long window.

But the sight which appealed to me most was a harpsichord (or whatever an early-day piano was called) with "Irish Melodies" on the rack.

"Tom Moore!" I exclaimed. "Yes," the guide replied, "he visited Richmond."

It was in 1803 and, on the wall, was his portrait, painted while he was in the city. The handsome son of Erin wrote the words and music of "Irish Melodies," furthermore, he sang and provided his own accompaniment. Perhaps he had played on this very instrument—and even perhaps from this copy of his songs. It was pleasing to think so.

"This is Hollywood Cemetery," the guide said. I was startled—and displeased, too, that a city as rich as Richmond should borrow a name that stands for glitter, tinsel and make-believe. "Jefferson Davis and presidents of the United States are buried here," he continued.

And then I realized that it was an old cemetery, named long before there was a Hollywood in California, and named for the same reason: the presence of a group of holly trees.

The cemetery was dedicated in 1849, coincidentally the year of the gold rush to California.

Sleeping there are Monroe, Tyler, Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury, the fiery John Randolph of Roanoke and many Confederate officers.

"That is Pickett's grave," the guide said, indicating a pyramid of gray rocks. "A life-terminer gained his freedom by volunteering to put the top stone in place."

Monument Avenue is a vista of beauty, long lines of trees adorning the boulevard, making an impressive background for the statues of J.E.B. Stuart, Lee (on Traveller), Davis, Stonewall Jackson and Maury. Those who died in battle look northward, their faces to the foe; those who died after the war look south, to the land for which they fought.

Marshall Promoted In Tech's ROTC

Arvie Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Marshall, was promoted to master sergeant in the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Texas Tech.

Promotion of 117 cadets enrolled in ROTC was announced by Col. James B. Carvey, professor of military science and tactics.

Marshall, a 1956 graduate of Canyon High School, is a junior agriculture science major.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

"What is Past is Prologue"

Nearly four centuries ago the above lines were written by Shakespeare, and they are today engraved on the National Archives Building in Washington. Shakespeare knew, as have many other learned men, that there is no better way to understand the present or to look ahead into the future than to take a backward glance at the past.

The time of year surrounding Thanksgiving, Christmas, and the New Year (referred to by some as the Holiday Season) has always seemed to me to be a time for reflection and of preparation for the future. It is interesting to do this on an annual basis, and even more interesting to compare the present with various circumstances in the past.

The destiny of America, always full of promise, has never been more so than at the present time. This statement is justified when we compare circumstances today with those of ten years ago.

You remember that 1948 was the year of the Berlin Airlift, the year when Mao Tse-tung and other Communists were taking over China, the year of the upset victory of Harry Truman, the year in which Gandhi was murdered, Babe Ruth died, and Prince Charles was born. 1948 marked the introduction of bebop as a successor to swing, and the establishment of laundrettes in thousands of our communities.

Economically it was a highly prosperous year. Agricultural production, national income, personal income, and wages were at an all-time high. In fact, the production of crops that year has not been exceeded since, unless it occurs this year. In 1948 we had a total of 146,000,000 people in this country.

Only recently the Census Bureau announced we have passed the 175 million mark. By 1968 we will almost certainly have well over 200 million people in the United States. This 20 per cent population increase is due both to a generally high birth rate and a significant decline in death rates. The average life expectancy at birth is now about 70 years—three years more than it was a decade ago.

The decade's medical advances included the breakthrough in the fight against polio. The effectiveness of antibiotic medicines plus advances in surgery have contributed measurably toward reducing the average period of hospitalization required per patient.

The period 1947-1957 saw the increase from 4,821 million to 11,873 million kilowatt hours of electric power distributed weekly. Total cars and trucks assembled in 1947 averaged 92,200 per week and in 1957, 138,500 per week.

The huge interstate highway system has been started. The St. Lawrence Seaway is nearing completion. A new era of transportation is drawing with the conversion of many of our commercial air fleets to turbo-jets.

We should not forget that our rapid progress has been accompanied by ever-increasing demands on the natural resources of the nation. One vital raw material where shortages are threatening to become serious in many areas is water. Not only are we using more water directly as consumers, but industry's demands for water are staggering.

It requires 300,000 gallons of water to manufacture one ton of rayon, and the rayon industry in the United States manufactures 600,000 a year. Conservation is necessary on many fronts, in our forests, on our farms, and in our mines.

In the picture of our economic expansion, there is one blotch of which we cannot be proud. I speak of our farmers, whose average annual net income per farm has dropped from $3,483 in 1948 to $2,760. As you know, it has long been my contention this situation will produce sociological factors as well as economic problems.

Scientific advances have been almost unfathomable. The developments in nuclear energy, electronics, chemistry—not to mention the advent of the space age, are truly astounding. It is entirely within the realm of possibility that the next decade, manned flight to the moon may be an accomplished fact.

Although it cannot be measured statistically, I earnestly hope we have grown spiritually. Church affiliation has actually grown more rapidly than our population and currently over 104 million persons are affiliated with some organized religion, which approximates an increase of over 25 million the past ten years.

We are a great nation—a growing nation with a heritage of which we can be proud and a future rich in the rewards of a boundless faith.

Time is money—but don't spend a dollar's worth of time trying to save a penny.

Most education is free, but not the kind you get signing notes for your friends.

Shower Honors Kay Russell

Kay Russell, of Claude, bride-elect of Larry Hungate, was honored by a bridal shower Monday night in the home of Mrs. E. M. Myers. Miss Russell and Hungate will be married Dec. 28 in the First Methodist Church of Claude.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Myers, the hostess; Mrs. H. R. Hungate, mother of the groom-to-be; Miss Russell, the honoree; and Mrs. Charley Russell of Claude, mother of the bride-elect. Miss Russell wore a white gardenia backed by white carnations trimmed in gold, carrying out her colors of gold and white, and the mothers wore white carnations trimmed in gold and small wedding bells.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of white spider mums with gold centers, flanked by crystal candelabra holding gold tapers. Presiding at the crystal punch bowl at one end of the table were Mrs. Gerald Dietz and Barbara Kay Myers. Snowballs were served at the opposite end by Charlotte Crain and Annette Dugan.

Presiding at the guest book were Mrs. Camal Dakil and Nancy McCormick. Sarah Ragle furnished piano music.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Otto Samelson, Mrs. Tom Gooch, Mrs. Art Roberts, Mrs. H. C. Hudson, Mrs. Rae Walters, Mrs. J. O. Parker, Mrs. Iverson Leake, Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Mrs. Frank Beger and Mrs. Earline Moreman.

'Mosts' Honored At Beauty Dance

Le Mirage, yearbook at West Texas State, will honor the campus "Most Beautiful" girl and "Most Handsome" man at the annual Beauty Dance here Wednesday night.

Winners of a campus-wide election will be presented during an intermission of the first formal dance of the year at WT. The election was held Monday, but results of the balloting will not be revealed until the presentation.

Dancing in the cafeteria will be from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m., with the Ed Armstrong Orchestra playing. Dr. Wendell Cain, associate professor of speech, will be master of ceremonies for the presentation.

Admission will be $1 a person. Candidates for "Most Beautiful" are Carolyn Baer of Dumas, Karen Bell of Dimmitt, Rue Paul Groves of Stinnett, Carolyn McLaughlin of Pampa, Kathleen Riley of Canadian, and Barbara Shepard of Amarillo.

"Most Handsome" candidates are Jim Hadaway of Springlake, Alvin Lynn of Whiteflat, Wayne Potter of Tulia, Jim Reid of Amarillo, Don Sheffy of Dimmitt, and Jim Young of Canadian.

SKI CLUB TO MEET Canyon Ski Club has slated a meeting at 8 p. m. Monday in the West Texas State Fieldhouse to discuss the group's trip to New Mexico. Everyone is invited.

The memories that seem to last the longest with a certain type of people are the shortcomings of their acquaintances.

19 WT Musicians In Recital Monday

Nineteen West Texas State College voice and instrumental students will be presented in a recital Monday at 4 p. m. in the Administration Building auditorium. The public is invited.

Three pianists will appear on the program, including Tommy Whitten of Amarillo, Alice Dietz of Canyon, and Patsy Wauer of Wellington. Whitten will play "Prelude No. 1" by Bach; Miss Dietz will play "Sonatina" by Bartok; and Miss Wauer has chosen Chopin's "Ballade, A flat, Op. 47."

Two Christmas chorales by Bach will be played by Sara Lynn of Amarillo, organ, and Harris Brinson of DeLeon and Kenneth Taylor of Pampa, trumpeters. Another trio, Jimmy Goff of Pampa, flute, Dayna Larson of Amarillo, oboe, and Jim Dees of Panhandle, clarinet, will play Arnold's "Divertimento."

Vocalists include Betty Blackman, soprano, of Amarillo, singing a selection from "Figaro" by Mozart; Harriet Lowry, soprano, of Wellington, "I Love Thee" by Grieg; and Jean Goff, soprano, of Canyon, "Pace, pace mio Dio" by Verdi.

Others on the program include Ann McMurry of Tulia, trombone, "Fantasy-Piece" by Schumann; Charlotte McElroy of Dimmitt, baritone horn, "Andante Cantabile" by Schroeder; Judi Bingham of Amarillo, flute, "Serenade" by Hue; Jimmy Boyd of Canyon, French horn, "Andante" by Hoberg; Carl Ward of Dalhart, trombone, "Andante et Allegro" by Barak; Hal McKinney of Amarillo, clarinet, "Concertino" by Weber; and Don Smith of Canyon, French horn, "Nocturne" by Ciere.

County Cotton Notices Mailed

Cotton allotment notices for Randall County farmers were mailed last week from the county ASC office. The county's total allotment was dropped from 2273.5 acres in 1958 to 2100.5 acres.

The total allotment amounted to about a nine per cent decrease, but the individual decrease ran about 14.5 per cent, according to Doyle Thomas, office manager.

Due to a change in the law made last spring by Congress, no allotment could be dropped below 10 acres; therefore all farms with 10 acre allotments were not changed and the farms with greater allotments carried the brunt of the decrease, Thomas said.

A small amount of acreage is available for new grower application, Thomas said. Eligible farmers have until Feb. 16 to file for the new grower allotments.

The surest way to destroy people's confidence in yourself is to always question closely the motives of others.

Some orators don't seem to understand that there is no connection at all between eloquence and endurance.

Musick-Nichols Vows Exchanged

In a double ring ceremony at the home of Douglass Rohre, Pat Musick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Duke of Dumas, became the bride of Walter S. Nichols, son of Mrs. Callie Nichols of Lubbock.

Rohre, director of the Church of Christ Bible Chair at West Texas State College, officiated.

The bride wore a blue velvet dress with matching accessories. She wore a white headpiece and carried a white Bible.

The bride will receive a B.S. degree from WT upon completion of her practice teaching in Dumas. She is a graduate of Cheyenne, Okla., High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Hale Center High School, served in the U. S. Army for two years. He is employed by the TG&Y Store in Dumas.

The couple will make their home in Dumas.

2 Piano Recitals Set Next Week

Two recitals by the piano pupils of Mrs. Ray McReynolds have been set for next week. The first will be presented at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the all-purpose room of Canyon Elementary School, and the second will be at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday in the all-purpose room.

Playing in the first recital will be Nora Lynn Pond, John Ragle, Janice Allen, Eva Frank, Shelley Brilhart, Rickie Warren, John Warren, David Graham, Eddie Kiser, David Hughes, Penny Warren.

Susan Sherer, Cynthia Holcomb, Paula Woolsey, Nancy Green, June Johnson, Karla Sue Jordan, Keith Stevens, Rita Jo Parkhill and Alan Hicks.

Presenting the second recital will be Esther Hanig, Sue Ragle, Charlotte Clark, Katy Upshaw, Lorraine Taylor, Martha Hughes, Linda Taylor, Mark Ann Frank, Philip Fletcher, Darrell Woolsey, Art McAnarney, Rosemary Gerdson and Linda Allen.

Allmon Services Held in Amarillo

Services in the memory of Edwin E. Allmon, of Channing, father of Mrs. E. E. Perkins of Canyon, were held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Blackburn-Shaw Chapel in Amarillo with the Rev. Cecil Hardaway, pastor of the Claude Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in the Channing Cemetery.

A retired postal worker, Mr. Allmon died at 2:15 a. m. Wednesday in the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Born Feb. 24, 1877, in Decatur, Ill., Mr. Allmon's family settled in Channing about 1900.

Other survivors are his wife, Mrs. Lola Allmon of Channing; a son, J. L. Allmon of Palma, Alaska; another daughter, Mrs. M. H. Dow-len of Dallas; a brother, Emmett Allmon of Oakland, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Hattie Cash of Floydada; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

LET'S FACE IT

Remember, you can't expect to win the game of life today with hits you made yesterday.

SAFETY FIRST

Drive carefully during the year-end holidays—take it easy in 1958 so you can be alive in 1959.

People wouldn't have such a hard time keeping up with expenses if they didn't have to keep up with their neighbors.

Few things give more satisfaction than being able to park on what's left of the other fellow's nickel.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Texans are on about the 10-year line in the drive to set a traffic safety record in 1958.

Safety officials will count it a "touchdown" if at the end of the year traffic fatalities have been reduced by 10 per cent of the 1957 toll. Despite the emphasis on percentages and numbers, it is not a campaign for statistical glory.

None of the players on the safety crusade team can hope to benefit personally from an impressive scoreboard. Nor are they out to "win for the coach." Gov. Price Daniel already has had his "contract" renewed—at last summer's elections.

Real winners will be 254 Texas people. All of them would be dead by Dec. 31 if last year's accident rate continued.

For the first 10 months of this year Texas has been achieving its aim of a 10 per cent cut in traffic deaths. This has been done even though travel has increased two per cent.

But the last four weeks—like the last four downs in front of the goal post—will be the hardest. Christmas and New Year's holiday traffic will multiply driving dangers many times.

State officials, patrolmen and all the civic-minded associations and commissions and councils are geared for an all-out push. But actually "getting there" will depend on each Texan putting "drive safely" at the top of his Christmas list.

Safety Legislation

For greater safety in the years ahead, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission will ask the next Legislature to pass a six-point program.

Points in the program: (1) state aid for driver education in the public schools, (2) creating county-wide courts of record to handle traffic violations, (3) legalizing use of chemical tests to determine intoxication, (4) strengthening drivers license law, (5) revising and updating the uniform vehicle code and (6) increasing salaries for members of the Department of Public Safety and starting a program to bring the highway patrol to the national minimum standard of 1,600.

Essentially the same program also has been endorsed by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

School Report Complete

Hale-Aikin Committee has completed its study and agreed—with some difficulty—on a proposed program for improving public schools.

Final report is 37 pages long, detailing improvements and expansions that would increase school spending by $110,000,000 a year. Suggestions for upgrading the quality of public education include more days of school, more pay for teachers, driver education, special programs for the gifted, pre-school teaching of non-English speaking children, clerical assistance for teachers, etc.

Full final report will be printed within two or three weeks for distribution to legislators and interested citizens. Copies may be obtained from the Texas Education Agency, Austin.

School Law Tested

Texas officials are studying carefully the similarities between Texas' and Alabama's pupil placement laws.

U. S. Supreme Court declared the Alabama law constitutional "on its face." But the court indicated the law might later be considered unconstitutional in the way in which it was applied.

Texas' pupil placement law, in the same general pattern, was passed in 1957, has never been tested in court. It allows local school officials to assign students to certain schools on the basis of 17 factors—aptitude, intelligence, home environment, personal conduct—almost everything except race.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said all the court tests of similar laws are being watched. By the end of the year, he said, "we should know pretty well what the law is."

Prison Funds Run Short

Texas Board of Correctness will ask the Legislature for a half-million-dollar emergency appropriation to finish out the fiscal year.

Untimely fall rains caused heavy losses in the Prison System's cotton crop. Result is that the system, which pays more than half its own way with prison industries and agriculture, will run short by an estimated $506,000 by Aug. 31. Department of Corrections also will be asking for funds to expand its overcrowded facilities. Needed, says the Board, is $9,505,000 to build two new units for prisoners and one tuberculosis unit.

Go Slow

"Like pay for like work" is a great idea, says the Texas Public Employees Association. But its members, the state employees, are wary of any effort to put a job classification system into effect in a hurry.

TPEA says it will study carefully the job classification study made by the Texas Employment Commission at the request of the last Legislature. Employees said they might have some recommendations of their own by the time lawmakers meet.

TEC's study makes no salary recommendations but is simply an individual description of some 26,500 state jobs.

Some employees fear that attempts to adjust pay inequities between similar jobs would only result in more inequities. Others say the task of adjusting and supervising job classification would create another mushrooming, money-spending bureau.

Re-Tread for Roads

Texas Highway Commission has okayed a $20,000,000 program for improving 3,061 miles of existing farm roads.

Age and heavy use has brought need for re-surfacing, bridge widening and shoulder replacement, said the commission.

Texas' farm-to-market road system has grown from 3,060 miles in 1948 to the present 28,203 miles.

Short Snorts

Texas Independence Day Association has announced a $280,000 program for improving Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park, site of the signing of the Texas Declaration of Independence. It hopes to raise the money privately, create a tourist attraction and suitable site for March 2 observances.

If we can ever afford a psychosis, we plan to get our complexes analyzed. On the side, we'll be watching for one question: "How do you feel about your house? Not home; house."

A home includes people. But we know a few women who have more trouble in getting "in perfect adjustment" to the house they call home than to the family that shares it.

Take a certain lovely lady who for years rarely entertained at home because she was ashamed of her apartment. She is a good cook and a super-housekeeper, and the place was always charming, reflecting her personality to friends who loved to go there. But she entertained downtown at the hotel. Since she has her dream home, she seldom entertains there because it isn't completely furnished. Gradually the truth has dawned that she dislikes having people in the house because they mess it up! Scuff up the rugs, mark the highly polished kitchen floor with shoe marks. She'd rather have the house in perfect condition than to have folks enjoy it with her.

We know another who, in her old home, was charming and hospitable. She made fun of her house, but everyone loved going there because they loved her. Now that she has a beautiful new home, she seems reluctant to have anyone in. She strives for perfection in furnishings, even though it sometimes strains their income. The house has become a taskmaster instead of a joy.

Today we visited another woman who meant what she said ten years ago when she moved into a new home. It is always open to friends, grandchildren, and her husband's hobbies. There may be a layer of dust on the tables, but the coffee is hot and the lights glow invitingly. Her house is a place to enjoy, not a treasure to protect from invasion.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leavy, Manager

They Said It Couldn't Be Done

Engineers at Bell Telephone Laboratories had a problem. What happens to telephone cables placed two miles deep in the ocean? Well, one way was to put cables down there—then pull them up and find out. But that was expensive—so the slide rule boys just decided to build their own ocean at Chester, New Jersey. The cost was 75% cheaper than placing cable in the wear and tear of the sea. This man-made ocean is the only one of its kind in the world. Now Bell Laboratories scientists will be able to study cable "aging," the tiny changes in electrical characteristics which occur as the telephone cable rests on the ocean floor. The result will be better overseas telephone service for our customers.

Helpful Hint for Husbands

If most of you husbands are like me, you fall into the same old trap every Christmas.

You go out and buy your wife that special something she wants, then sit back and relax, happy in the thought that you're going to please her. Suddenly, about a week before the big day, you realize all your eggs are in one basket. Mom will have one nice gift—but that's all. Everyone else, meanwhile, will have several packages under the tree.

If this is about to happen at your house this year, here's an idea.

Give Mom a color extension telephone for Christmas. We'll give you a colorful gift-wrapped miniature telephone to put under the tree with the other presents, then have the real one hooked up after Christmas.

Table phones now come in nine pretty colors. The new wall phones, so popular for kitchens, are available in seven colors. The cost is $10 plus installation.

Before the holiday season is upon us, I'd like to wish everyone a "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year" from all of us here at the Telephone Company.

Versatile Firemen

In addition to putting out fires, the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department can take care of any number of things. Saturday afternoon a small foreign-made car turned over on the curve on Highway 60 just north of town, and caught on fire. The driver, T/Sgt. Harry L. Bauer of Amarillo Air Force Base, got out with only a small cut on his finger. While part of the department was putting out the fire, Jack Jennings and Roland Hicks bandaged the sergeant's finger.

All-Star Basketball Game Set Saturday

An all-star basketball game has been scheduled for 8 p. m. Saturday in the WT fieldhouse, with several former WT basketball stars participating.

The game will be between the Ince Oil Company All-Stars of Lubbock and the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company All-Stars of Amarillo. The game is being promoted by Alpha Sigma Xi and admission is 50 cents per person.

Playing on the insurance company team are Troy Burrus, Bill Clifton, James Scott and Boyce Box, all formerly of WT, Jim Reid of Texas Tech, S. L. Shofner, former National Industrial Basketball League All-American, and two Wayland stars, Roy Young and Cecil Davis. The team has won two games this season, both by scores of more than 100 points.

ASC Asks Help Of Grain Farmers

A plea for help from grain farmers in getting paperwork for loans done ahead of time came from ASC office manager Doyle Thomas this week.

Thomas said that a check with grain elevators and lending agencies indicates that many farmers plan to wait until after Jan. 1 to process their grain loans. "It appears that this could cause us to write as many loans in January as we have written in September, October, November and December all together," he said.

"This simply means that unless something is done, it will take from 10 days to two weeks, or possibly longer, for us to process a loan. We are losing two experienced clerks the first of the year and in addition, our administrative funds are so short that we will not be able to hire additional help," he said.

Thomas suggests that if farmers who want to get their money before the income tax deadline on Jan. 15 but after Jan. 1 will begin the processing now, their loans will be ready when they want them. He said those farmers should bring their receipts to the ASC office now, and the office force will prepare the loan.

The receipts will be kept in the ASC safe or returned to the lending agency after the loan papers are prepared. Thomas said he has checked with the Internal Revenue Service and preparation of the papers ahead of time will not cause the money to be counted as revenue for this year.

Postal Hints for Faster Handling

Postmaster Marion Higdon said this week that the Post Office here does not plan to stay open extra hours during the holiday season by trying to keep up with the rush of business.

To help, he gave these hints for faster mail handling:

Use the correct postage. Rates for Christmas cards are three cents unsealed and four cents sealed. Use correct addresses on all classes of mail. Address parcels on one side only.

Write addresses legibly, preferably with ink.

Eagles Win One; Girls Lose Two

The Canyon Eagles again split their week's winnings, losing to Dumas 34-29 on Friday and trimming Happy 45-42 on Tuesday. Jerry Richardson was the leading Eagle scorer in both games, and the game leader against Dumas.

He drilled in 11 points Friday and 12 on Tuesday. Dub Oler of Happy led the game scoring with 15 points for the Cowboys.

The Eaglette B-team was defeated 36-15 by White Deer at Canyon last Friday. Jan Brotherton was high scorer with six points. The A-team met a similar fate when White Deer won 47-27. Marilyn Winn led with 12 points.

Tuesday night the Eaglettes met the Happy Cowgirls. Although the Cowgirls had only a one-point lead in the fourth quarter, they defeated the Eaglettes 39-33. Patricia Salmon dumped in 16 points for Canyon.

The next games on the schedule are the Hereford Tournament for the Eagles Friday and Saturday. Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, both the Eagles and the Eaglettes will play in the Panhandle Tournament.

PO Examinations Announced Here

Examinations to set up an eligibility list for possible openings in the Post Office in Canyon have been announced by Postmaster Marion Higdon.

He said that postal jobs offer job security, liberal retirement, low cost life insurance, paid sick leave, paid vacations, entrance pay of $2 an hour, automatic pay raises, promotional opportunity, uniform allowance for carriers, eight paid holidays for regular employees, longevity increases and endorsement of armed forces reserve participation.

Higdon said there are no openings in the force here at present, but future openings would be filled from the employment register. Those interested may pick up application forms from Higdon. No closing date has been set for the examination.

Cotton Voting Set Dec. 15

Voting in the 1959 Cotton Referendum for Randall County will be held in three places on Dec. 15, according to an announcement from the ASC office. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m.

Farmers in the southeast and southwest portions of the county will vote at the Randall County Grain & Supply company at Ralph Switch; those in the Umbarger and Highland communities will vote in the Knights of Columbus Hall at Umbarger; and those in the rest of the county will vote at the ASC office in Canyon. All farmers who have an interest in a cotton crop will be eligible to vote, including landowners and wives of eligible voters.

The vote will be on marketing quotas only. If as many as two-thirds vote for quotas, penalties will be in effect for overseeded acreage and farmer will then have a choice of one of two plans.

Plan A would mean that farmers would plant within their allotments and cotton would be supported at 80 per cent of parity. Plan B would mean that farmers could overplant their allotments up to 40 per cent and the price support would be available at 65 per cent of parity.

If quotas are voted down there will be no penalty for overplanting allotments and farmers would not choose between the two plans. Farmers complying with their allotment could get price support at 50 per cent of parity. No price support would be available for those farmers overplanting their allotment.

Wheat Measuring Started in County

Measuring of wheat lands was started last week by ASC fieldmen, according to Doyle Thomas, ASC office manager.

Under new regulations, the fields must be measured by steel tape rather than measuring wheels, and due to a shortage of administrative funds, extra chainmen cannot be hired. Thomas has asked that farmers help the fieldmen who are measuring their fields.

As advantages of farmer help.

Thomas listed:

1. There would be better satisfaction with the measurements.
2. There would be better accuracy. Two can measure better than one.
3. It will speed up the work to where a farmer will know how he stands earlier. It may save some expense incurred on excess acreage.
4. Marketing cards will not be delayed. We cannot issue a card until the wheat is measured. This is true even though wheat has been harvested.

Don't Be Caught Short When the New Year Comes!

Grain farmers planning to wait until after January 1 to get their grain loans may find themselves in a bind on income tax day, January 15, unless they plan now to get the paper work done ahead of time.

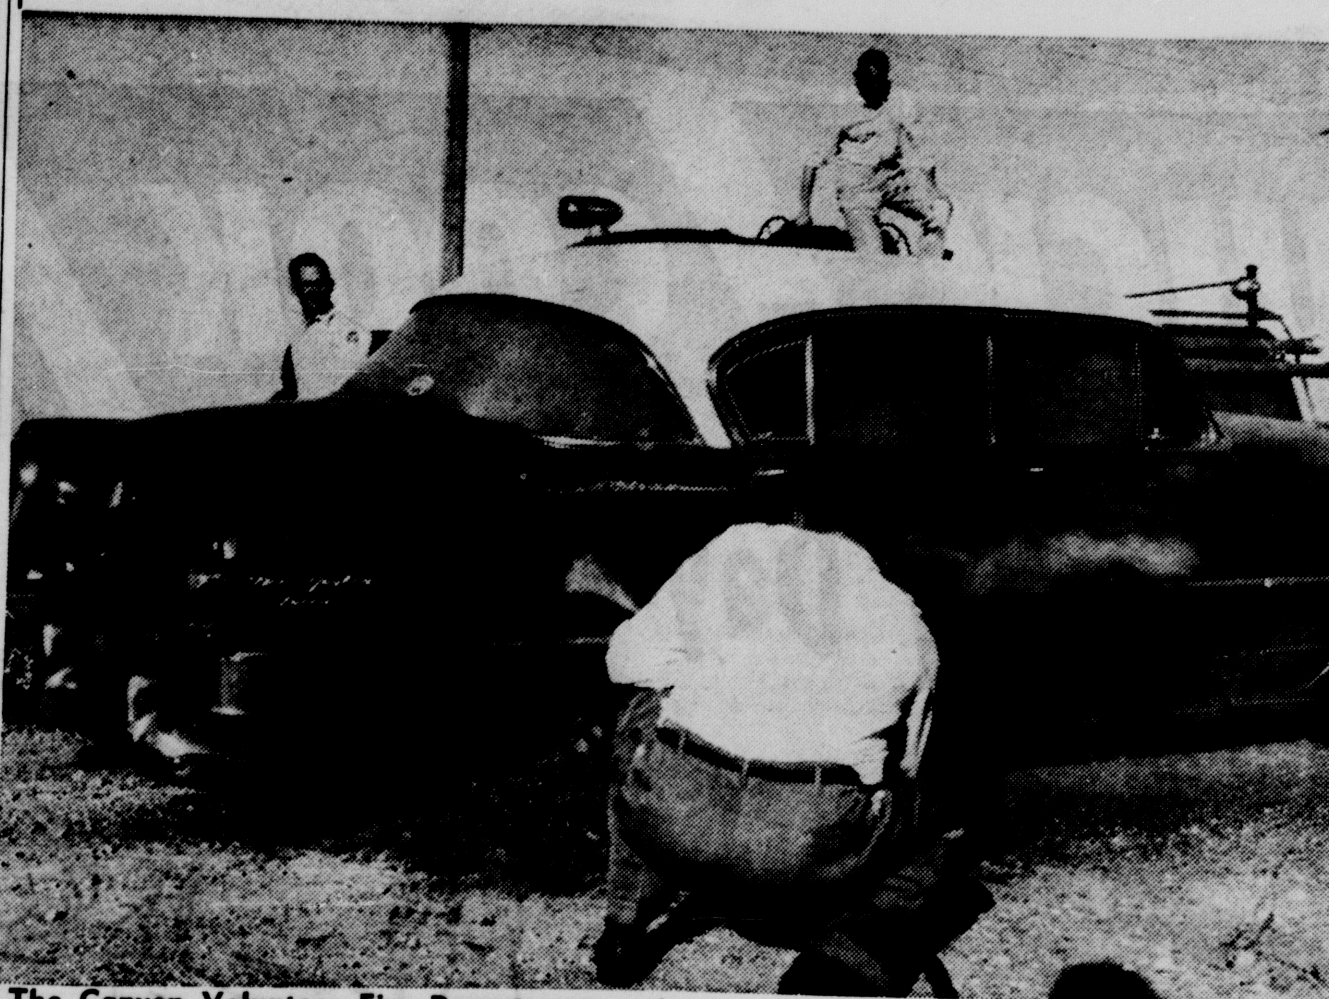

Cooperating with the Randall County ASC office, we advise farmers to do this: Take receipts to the ASC office now, and the ASC office will prepare the loan between now and January 1, and have it ready to issue on the first of January. The ASC office has checked with the Internal Revenue Service and the income can be counted next year because the note is not signed until then.

Don't be caught in the first of the year squeeze. Get quicker service by taking your receipts to the ASC office now.

Fire Underwriters Give Safety Tips

Because the Christmas tree is a potential fire hazard, use caution in its selection, placement and maintenance, the National Board of Fire Underwriters cautions. The board urges use of the following safety suggestions:

1. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. A small tree can be just as pretty, less hazardous.
2. Keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to install it.
3. Don't set up the tree until just before Christmas.
4. Set up the tree in the coolest part of the house, away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces. Stand it in water to retard drying.
5. Use fireproof decorations of glass or metal, never cotton or paper, unless flameproof.
6. Don't set up electric trains around or near the trees.
7. Use electric lights—never candles.
